Community Extension Services

SPUP's community extension projects are people oriented, responsive to issues affecting people's existence, adaptive to change and development processes, and directed towards transformation through Service-Learning. Thus, community engagement activities are geared towards sustainability, productivity and self-reliance among the members of community-partners.

SPUP, through the CES office has forged partnerships with communities to address their need of service and the students' need of learning through active engagement. This allows Paulinian learners to connect with and benefit their surrounding communities through service while integrating learning in their academic discipline.

Our Best Features:

- ✿ Paulinian Volunteers for Community Development (PVCD) is an accredited UNESCO Club
- ✿ Conducts annual Aliw Bata-Christmas Celebration with the street children of Tuguegarao City
- ✿ Implements Service-Learning as an approach to community extension services
- ✿ Manages the Science Agri-Based Entrepreneurial High School (SABEHS), a recognized Alternative Learning Program by the Department of Education (DepEd)
- ✿ Training partner of the Cagayan Valley Regional Rehabilitation Center for Youth.
- ✿ Affiliate of DSWD and the National Housing Targeting System for the identification of poor household families in Region 02
- ✿ Partnership with St. Joseph Parish in Baggao, Cagayan to develop SABEHS as agricultural demonstration farm

Through the engaging CES activities, SPUP fosters collaboration and partnership between its academic community and partner communities. It also provides an avenue for learners to make valuable contributions to the community. In doing so, SPUP remains committed in the total formation of competent leaders and responsible citizens of their community, country and the world.
